

Be able to update your web site any time you want without having to pay again.

We provide a site that you can update yourself.

Do you want to be able to update your web site any time you want without having to pay time and time again? Do you want to be able to update your web site any time you want without having to pay time and time again? Do you want to be able to update your web site any time you want without having to pay time and time again? Do you want to be able to update your web site any time you want without having to pay time and time again? Do you want to be able to update your web site any time you want without having to pay time and time again? Do you want to be able to update your web site any time you want without having to pay time and time again?

We show you how to update it.

Every site comes with a training DVD so that you can know exactly how to use it.

This is an extended version of the expensive face-to-face training that our training experts give all on DVD! In a recent training session for the Milton Keynes Enterprise Gateway with participants who ranged from people with little or no knowledge of websites to a number of people with established websites to a woman running a website development company 18 out of 19 participants gave positive feedback (the 19th didn't fill the form in!) including "Very helpful", "Knowledgeable", "She is very knowledgeable in her area", "Linda was very good. Knew her stuff and very approachable", "Clear and easy to understand. Easy to ask questions", "Excellent - very informative".

Remember this is not just a theory guide like most books and DVDs. This is a step-by-step course showing you exactly what to do using exactly the same type of system that we are providing for you.
